This is an aerial photograph of a rural landscape. In the center-left, there is a dark, rectangular pond. To the right of the pond and extending towards the top of the frame are several large, rectangular fields with distinct horizontal furrows, suggesting they have been recently plowed. A dirt road or path runs along the top edge of the fields. The bottom of the image shows more greenery and some small structures. A blue speech bubble is overlaid on the right side of the image, containing Thai text.
